LOWER-MORRELL

Dr. Samuel E. Lower, of Pittsburg, and Miss Salome E. Morrell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Morrell, of Biglerville, were quietly married in Harrisburg at one o'clock on Monday afternoon by Rev. Stewart Winfield Herman. After the ceremony, which was attended by the immediate families of the bride and groom, Dr. and Mrs. Lower left on a wedding trip to Atlantic City and other eastern points. Upon their return they will reside in their newly furnished home in Pittsburg. The bride is one of Biglerville's most popular and accomplished young ladies and will be greatly missed in her home town. The Times joins with her many friends in extending best wishes.

CONGREGATION OF THREE

Rev. Dr. P. J. Brahner, pastor of the Waynesboro Reformed Church, had an engagement to preach in the Reformed Church at Salem the other evening. He was at the church on time, but no congregation was present. He left the church and was making his way to the station to take a car for Waynesboro, when he met a woman and two children, on their way to attend the service. The minister returned to the church, ascended the pulpit and preached a regular sermon to his small but very appreciative audience of three.

RAIN BENEFITS GAME BIRDS

State game officials say rains came at an opportune time and there will now be little doubt about a plentiful supply of game birds. The heavy rains benefited the forests and also wet the ground and brush that there will be little danger of forest fires unless a prolonged dry spell sets in. As this is about the hatching season for wild turkeys, pheasants and other birds the hens will be on nests.

AUTO CAR LINE TO CALEDONIA

Arrangements being Made to Connect Gettysburg and Chambersburg by Automobile Line to Caledonia.

That Gettysburg is to be connected with Chambersburg this summer by an auto car line to Caledonia and trolley from there to the Franklin county town seems to be a sure thing, according to advices from Chambersburg.

The Chambersburg and Gettysburg trolley line is investigating the feasibility of inaugurating the auto line between this place and the trolley terminal at Caledonia and if the plan is found acceptable several big machines with 12 or 14 passenger capacity will be put in service and will travel on regular schedule time.

Gettysburgians, especially the younger ones, would greatly welcome this innovation as it would give them access to Caledonia park which they have never before had, the journey there always being more or less tiresome when it had to be made by team. It would also make Chambersburg very much more easy to reach.

In commenting on the project the Chambersburg Public Opinion says:

"The regular army maneuvers at Gettysburg during two months this summer will draw thousands there. Many of these visitors would make the trip to Chambersburg to see the only town north of Mason & Dixon line that was burned during the Civil War. Others would go to Caledonia park. From this end many would go to Gettysburg to see the maneuvers, while the large commercial traveler trade would be constant. Every one will hope that the plans are consummated."

The Chambersburg Valley Spirit says: "Starting with the famous Caledonia furnace owned by Thaddeus Stevens, one of the foremost men of his day in bringing about the war of the rebellion and the abolition of slavery, a furnace property whose ruins mark the destruction wrought by the Confederate torch, and ending at the bloodiest and most renowned ground of modern times, the route would be one of the most interesting and picturesque in this country. The roadway is in good condition, the line to Gettysburg is undulating and easy and a trip of great beauty would be enjoyed."

During last winter some Boston gentlemen looked the matter over with the view of conducting a line the entire distance, by auto, between Chambersburg and Gettysburg somewhat similar to that operated with great success between Boston, Lexington and Concord over the great road made historic by Paul Revere's ride on to the famous bronze statue of the minute man which stands where was fired "the shot heard round the world." Although recognizing that this road has greater natural beauties than the Concord-Lexington route and possesses some extraordinary attractions of a historic period and of world known occurrences the New Englanders abandoned the project for what to them seemed good reasons.

EMMITSBURG UNDER CHARTER

Citizens of Emmitsburg have nominated a non-partisan municipal ticket under the provisions of a new charter to be voted on at the town election May 2. Instead of a Burgess and six Commissioners elected for one year as heretofore a Burgess will be elected annually and three Commissioners whose terms will be for one, two and three years. This arrangement was brought about by the Business Men's Association, and its object is to carry out a definite plan for uninterrupted town improvement. The following ticket has been nominated: Burgess, for one year, S. L. Rowe; Commissioners, for one year, Millard F. Shuff; two years, E. E. Zimmerman; three years, Dr. John McC. Foreman.

Under the new charter every eligible voter must register.

COMING TO GET THE CAMP SITE

Major Schofield Detailed to Secure Camp Site for the Maneuver Camp. Over Twenty Thousand Acres Released for Maneuvers.

The following telegram was received this afternoon:

Washington D. C. April 26 Merchants' Association Gettysburg, Pa.

I, with party of three officers, will arrive at Gettysburg about 1 p. m. April 27, by automobile for the purpose of considering camp site with you.

W. W. Witherspoon Brigadier General U. S. A.

The above telegram was received a few minutes before going to press Major Schofield, who is mentioned in the following, will likely be one of the party with Brigadier General Witherspoon.

A letter from Captain B. M. Wells, who visited Gettysburg some weeks ago to look over the site for the proposed maneuver camp, gives the information that Major R. McA. Schofield, Quartermaster U. S. A., has been directed to come to Gettysburg to close negotiations for the site for the maneuver camp this summer.

Major Schofield has been detailed to do this work in response to a request from the local Retail Merchants' Association that an Army officer be sent here to secure the camp site. It was felt that this could be done more satisfactorily in this manner than by local people as the Army officer would know exactly how much ground was desired and what location would be most preferable, though the general location of the camp has already been determined upon.

Twenty thousand acres of land have been released for the maneuvering. It is thought that more will be desired and, as soon as Major Schofield indicates in which direction this will be, steps will be taken to secure releases of this additional territory. It is thought that the camp site proper will require only about 300 or 400 acres.

It is earnestly hoped by the local parties who have had in charge the plans for the work of getting the big military attraction for Gettysburg this summer that the owners of the land desired for camp site will be ready to deal in a reasonable manner with Major Schofield. He will be here in a few days and satisfactory treatment will mean that negotiations will be closed promptly while demands which are deemed exorbitant by that officer will mean untold injury to the maneuver camp project.

Captain B. M. Wells, in concluding his letter regarding the visit of Major Schofield to Gettysburg says: "I am sorry that the job did not fall to me as I was looking forward with pleasure to spending the summer in your beautiful country."

Marcus Marks, representing the Merchants' Association of New York City, and John M. Stahl, of Quincy, Ill., a publisher of farm journals and a farmer, representing the Farmers' National Congress, strongly urged the establishment of a parcels post for the rural routes of the country.

The matter of the parcels post was taken up at the last meeting of the Gettysburg Retail Merchants' Association but opinions differed and no action was taken.

PLANNING FOR THE CYCLORAMA

Gettysburg People Interested in Project. Samuel Bushman and Harry Snyder among the Officers. General Lomax a Director.

Judge W. B. Matthews was here on Monday regarding matters concerning the location of the cyclorama of the battle at this place. Two pictures of the proposed building to house the exhibit have been placed in the Eagle and Gettysburg hotels where they may be seen. Should the plan be pushed to a successful consummation the building would be a great ornament to the town.

A number of local parties have become interested in the enterprise and Judge Matthews, during his stay here, saw a number of Gettysburg parties regarding the plans.

The officers of the Gettysburg Cyclorama Amusement Company are as follows, Major General C. F. Humphrey, U. S. A., retired, President; S. M. Bushman, Gettysburg, Vice President; Harry S. Snyder, Gettysburg Treasurer; John B. Randolph, Washington, D. C., Secretary; E. W. McConnell, Chicago, General Manager, W. H. Matthews, General Counsel.

COUNT DEAD PEOPLE

A peculiar feature of the census is explained by Mr. Elliott director of the census in Adams and York counties. It relates to the counting of dead people.

"All who die between April 15 and 30 are counted by the enumerators as a part of the population," he declared.

"This may seem strange, but it is true. The government takes into consideration the time for completing the census as a certain period. Those who die while the census is being taken are enumerated and go to make up the total number."

"Babies born on and after April 15 are not counted for the reason that they did not form any part of the population during the 10 years preceding and including April 14."

The instructions are to count all who die while the enumeration is being made. The census man asks the same questions about the dead as about the living."

325 ACRE CORN FIELD

The Hon. Frank E. Hollar, postmaster of Shippensburg, has thrown 325 acres of fine farm land into an unbroken, fenceless field, and corn will soon be planted in the entire acreage.

Sixteen plough teams were at work the entire of last week turning over the soil. The land lies along the turnpike within a mile from the eastern limits of Shippensburg, and this method of farming is in true western style. Land in this valley yields on an average of thirty barrels to the acre, hence Mr. Hollar may expect a crop of about 9,750 barrels of corn.

ANOTHER AUTO RUN IN JUNE

New York Herald and Atlanta Journal will Run Automobile Tour through here similar to that which Came through in 1909.

Gettysburg people who watched with interest the New York to Atlanta automobile run through this town last fall will be glad to know that a northbound tour is promised for this year.

The run is to be made in June, it is said the object being to reach the metropolis in time to participate in the welcome home to be given to former President Roosevelt. So far as present information is, the tour is to include particularly southern people.

It is taken for granted that this trip will be made in something of the same manner that last fall's tour was made, with easy stages and the complete route of some 1000 miles covered in seven days.

There are no prizes announced. It will be simply a tour under the auspices of the Atlanta Journal and New York Herald for the pleasure of the thing and the cultivation of a sentiment for better roads.

CHURCH STRUGGLE ENDS IN SUICIDE

Prominent Member of Christian Science Kills Herself.

DISTRESSED BY BITTER FIGHT

Miss Marion Stephens Was Tortured by Struggles Between Duty and Loyalty to Deceased Leader.

New York, April 26.—Miss Marion Stephens, tortured by her struggles with her sense of duty and her loyalty to Mrs. Augusta Stetson, the excommunicated leader of the First Church of Christ Scientist, and one of the most successful "healers" of the church, it became known, killed herself with gas last Saturday night in the apartments of her sister, Mrs. Weeks, at 526 West One Hundred and Eleventh street. Her death was reported to Coroner Feinberg, but so far he has taken no action. Her body was taken to Towanda, Pa.

Complained of Pressure.

"Three days ago," said an intimate friend of Miss Stephens, "Marion came to me and said: 'I cannot stand this awful pressure any longer. It follows me day and night. I love the church, but something keeps holding me to Mrs. Stetson. If I cannot break up that influence one way or another I shall take gas and kill myself.'"

A few months ago, after Mrs. Stetson had been humbled by the heads of the church and her resignation as a trustee of the First church in this city, carrying with it a renunciation of her former honors, had been accepted, Miss Stephens told a close friend of hers that her soul was tortured beyond endurance.

"I am going back to Mrs. Stetson," she said. "Though I know that to do so now will be to go to hell, I cannot help it. I have to do it, anyway."

Following the death of Harry P. Toler, the Wall Street broker, athlete and Christian Scientist, whose suicide shocked the whole Christian Science community a year ago and was attributed to what Mrs. Stetson's opponents called "malicious animal magnetism," the suicide of Miss Stephens created a tremendous sensation when it was whispered about the church. The officers of the church and the few remaining adherents of Mrs. Stetson, who worship in the Central Park West Temple, united in endeavoring to keep the news from the papers.

Distressed by Bitter Fight.

Miss Stephens was one of the first prominent members of the First church to rebel against Mrs. Stetson, but later resumed her allegiance to the deceased leader. She took no active part in the battle in the church which resulted in the deposition of Mrs. Stetson by Mother Mary Glover Baker Eddy. Miss Stephens was very much distressed by the schism in the church and went to Elmira, N. Y., where she lived with a sister.

Mrs. Stetson made every effort, the friends of Miss Stephens said, to win her back to the Stetson faction because of her popularity in the church and her success as a healer. They go so far as to say that Mrs. Stetson used all of the powers which she has learned in Christian Science to draw Miss Stephens back from Elmira.

A few months ago Miss Stephens, they say, came back to New York and became a devoted follower of the fortunes of Mrs. Stetson, spreading the Stetson propaganda among members of the First church, who had the greatest respect for her, but who didn't like Mrs. Stetson.

TAFT'S DOUBLE

Will Attend Base Ball Game With President in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 26.—President Taft, who has arranged to spend next Sunday and Monday in Pittsburgh, has sent a request that Police Sergeant Tom Morley, of this city, who is being accused of being a double of the president, accompany him to the base ball game Monday and be given the seat next to him. Morley will go.

"This thing of bearing even the slightest resemblance to a great man lent what you may think," said Morley as he looked a prisoner in a cell. "I was down in Philadelphia some time ago, and a crowd followed me through the streets so that I had to appeal to the police to help me get to my hotel. When I came to pay my bill at the desk I found some enthusiastic had paid it in advance for me, thinking I was the president of the United States."

Thought Himself a Murderer.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 26.—For seven years Oliver McKinley has imagined himself a murderer, but he is not. The St. Louis, Va., police have reported that he has confessed to killing a man in a Pittsburgh saloon on Aug. 13, 1903. On the date named McKinley stabbed a man and fled. The victim, George Getzheiser, has lived peacefully most of the seven years.

The Weather.

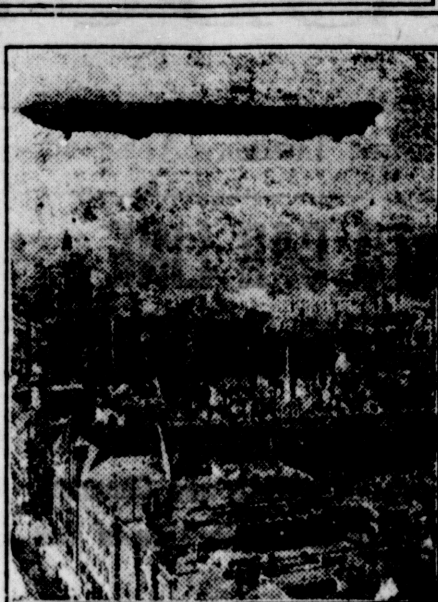

Forecast for this section: Showers today; tomorrow, partly cloudy; showers in northern portion; moderate to brisk east to southeast winds.

The earliest returns from the garden stuff will be secured from that planted on ground that was fall plowed. Owing to its physical condition such soil is warmer and hence makes possible a more rapid growth of plant life.

Peggy, the famous $10,000 Crystal White Orpington hen belonging to Ernest Kellerstrass of St. Louis, was exhibited a short time since at a poultry show in Madison Square Garden, New York city. So highly is she prized that detectives were stationed near at hand to see that no harm befall her.

ZEPPELIN II.

German Airship Which Was Wrecked in a Squall.

WIND WRECKS AIR CRUISER OF KAISER

Zeppelin II Torn From Moorings and Smashed.

Limburg-on-the-Lahn, Prussia, April 26.—The Zeppelin II, one of the three dirigible balloons of the German government's aerial fleet, was away and was destroyed.

The airship, which was forced to descend here owing to a storm encountered while attempting a return trip from Homburg to Cologne, broke her moorings and without a crew drifted in a northeasterly direction.

A half hour after its escape the dirigible dropped at Weilburg and was smashed to pieces.

Of the three aerial cruisers that made the successful flight from Cologne to Hamburg, where they were reviewed by Emperor William and their officers decorated, but one returned to Cologne under her own power. This was the Perseval, which struggled triumphantly against the gale. The Gross II. was sent home by train.

Two companies of infantry made futile efforts to hold the Zeppelin II when the ropes broke. What caused the craft to descend after so brief a flight is not known, but it is thought probably that the gas bags were torn and the mechanism damaged while it was making its escape.

The Zeppelin II, in descending at Weilburg, struck a clump of trees and parted at the middle. It lies lodged among the trees at the side of a cliff. The fire department and students at the cadet school turned out and attempted to rescue what was left intact of the machine. The aluminum frame was demolished and most of the gas escaped from the bags.

$160,000 FOR BRAVE ACT

Old Man Rescued By Laborer Makes the Latter His Heir.

Pittsburgh, April 26.—Wanted—Lawrence Mayhorn, John A. Serile wants the party named above, who saved his life on Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh, on Labor Day, eight years ago. If he is still living and will come to Chicago as soon as he can he will become heir to $160,000 as sole heir of John A. Serile, who is an invalid and would like to see the young man and thank him again for his heroic act.

"Hoping to see him soon. Yours,

"JOHN A. SERILE,

"1917 Sixty-ninth St., Chicago, Ill."

This advertisement was received by a Pittsburgh newspaper several days ago. Mayhorn has been found on a wretched farm in the mountain settlement of Ohlpylle, Fayette county, sick and with an injured back.

He told how he was warded off an attack on Mr. Serile as he was walking up Fifth avenue in the Labor Day crowds, when an Italian jostled the old man and pulled a knife.

Mayhorn says he knocked the Italian down and held him until a policeman arrested the foreigner.

Mayhorn says he will go to Chicago this week to see his benefactor.

BARRIE'S DIVORCE ABSOLUTE

Decree Granted to Novelist by London Court.

London, April 26.—The divorce of J. M. Barrie, novelist and playwright, was made absolute by decree of the court.

Barrie brought his suit Oct. 6. His wife, whom he married in 1894, was Miss Mary Ansell, an actress. At the trial Barrie told of his wife's infatuation for Gilbert Cannan, who lived for a time with the Barries at Turnham. He said she confessed, and that even when he offered to forgive her if she would give up Cannan, she declared Cannan was "everything in the world to her."

New York Banker a Suicide.

New York, April 26.—James A. Stevenson, head of the Stevenson Construction company, director in the Corn Exchange bank and a member of several clubs and fraternal societies, ended his life by shooting himself behind the right ear. He was in bed at the time he fired the shot and death was instantaneous. Stevenson was worth $500,000. What caused him to end his life is not known.

$100, REWARD $100,

WHY PORK IS HIGH

Hogs Scarce and Farm Implements Costly.

Washington, April 26.—Why pork chops and pork roasts cost more now than two, three and four years ago was the subject of expert testimony given in the senate food probe by Peter W. Peterson, of Clay county, South Dakota.

Mr. Peterson makes a specialty of raising hogs. He said he sold porkers at prices ranging from $4.50 a hundred pounds in 1900 to $6.53 in 1909. The price then jumped to $9.30 as the average from Jan. 1 to this week.

Corn, the product on which hogs chiefly are fattened, averaged 58 1/2 cents a bushel in 1908 and 56 1/2 cents in 1909, in comparison with 33 to 40 cents several years ago.

"Now," said Mr. Peterson, "pork is high because there are not enough hogs to supply the demand, and corn is low because there are not enough hogs to eat the supply."

Mr. Peterson showed that the average wage paid to farm hands had almost doubled in three years, that the value of grain-producing farm lands had actually doubled in his section, that the cost of farm implements had increased 25 per cent, that clothing costs the farmer from 25 to 30 per cent more, and that everything else he had to buy showed corresponding increases, yet he said he was making good profits and did not feel the 1907 panic at all.

"WARN" TAFT AWAY

St. Louis Labor Men Plan to Boycott Ball Game.

St. Louis, Mo., April 26.—The Central Trades Union of this city adopted a resolution to warn President Taft not to attend the Cleveland ball game here on May 4 with the Browns, as planned. The president was going to attend both games, as the Cardinals are also at home on that day, but the labor men say it would be an affront to them to have the executive go to the Cleveland game. Union pickets will be placed at the gates to warn the people away, according to the resolution.

Escaped Convict Electrocuted.

Richmond, Va., April 26.—Elijah Rouse, colored, was electrocuted in the penitentiary for having killed a colored man near Norfolk last year. Rouse escaped from Norfolk county jail March 29 and was captured next day. Thomas Noel, who escaped with Rouse, was captured a week later and will be executed May 13.

Why Pile Sufferers So Often Fail To Get

Science is getting to the bottom of everything, including the cause and cure of piles. The brightest doctors now admit that piles are caused internally and can be cured only by internal treatment. Dr. J. S. Leonard's time ago perfected a remedy for the most stubborn form of piles, which cures the cause of piles, and therefore cures permanently. CAUSE OF ECZEMA EXPLAINED

After years of debate medical authorities are now agreed that Eczema and other skin diseases are not seated in the blood, but are caused by myriads of microscopic animals gnawing the flesh just below the epidermis. The patient is perfectly healthy, it is only the skin that is diseased.
Hence, scientists are now agreed that you must cure the skin through the skin. The medicine must be in liquid form in order to penetrate properly. And we can say with confidence that we have the true remedy for Eczema in our store.
The instant you wash with this soothing liquid you will find the itch relieved. We positively assure you of this. Will you try a bottle (at only 25c), on our recommendation? Ask for D. D. D. Prescription. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor.

HUGHES GOES TO SUPREME COURT

Named to Take Place of the Late Justice Brewer.

PRESIDENT TAFT PLEASED

Agrees to Go Upon the Highest Bench in October, as He Was Anxious to Continue as New York's Chief Executive Until Then.

Washington, April 26.—Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, has accepted the offer of the appointment to the supreme court of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Associate Justice David J. Brewer.

This announcement was made authoritatively at the White House.

The following statement was given out at the White House:

"The president by letter of April 22 tendered the appointment to the supreme bench to succeed Justice Brewer to Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York. By letter of April 24 Governor Hughes accepted."

"In the president's letter to Governor Hughes he told him that as the supreme court would adjourn its hearings this week the person appointed would not be called upon to discharge any judicial functions until the opening of the October term on the second Monday in October, and that therefore if Governor Hughes could accept he might continue to discharge his duties as governor until his qualification on the day of the opening of the court in October."

"This was a material factor in Governor Hughes' acceptance. Accordingly if the nomination is confirmed, as there is every reason to believe it will be, Governor Hughes' qualification will not take place until October."

President Taft has desired to appoint Mr. Hughes to the supreme bench virtually from the day Justice Brewer died, but the status of the negotiations between the White House and the executive mansion at Albany was secret till the president had received the acceptance of the governor.

There had been talk of the place going to Solicitor General Bowers, but it was pointed out that he was more or less connected with the oil and tobacco trust cases, and that his appointment would not be desirable till those cases were decided.

On this account, and in view of the well known regard entertained by the president for Mr. Hughes, it has been believed for several weeks that the New York governor could have the place if he were willing to leave the political arena for the bench.

President Taft has always expressed the highest regard for Governor Hughes, especially since the last presidential campaign. Although a strong competitor for the nomination, Governor Hughes allowed this to deter him in no way from aiding Mr. Taft on the stump. He was one of the strongest campaign speakers of the Republicans in the middle west and in New York state. Mr. Taft has expressed admiration for the attainments of the governor as a lawyer.

AUTO DASHED INTO RIVER

Miss Marjorie Bartlett and Lieutenant Sterling, U. S. N., Get Drowning. Annapolis, Md., April 26.—Miss Marjorie Bartlett, the attractive daughter of Lieutenant Commander E. W. Bartlett, U. S. N., was treated to an impromptu ducking and suffered a narrow escape from drowning when she accepted the invitation of Lieutenant F. W. Sterling, U. S. N., to try his new automobile. The two passed the basin road, which skirts the boat launch on the academy. On the narrow path of this roadway the steering gear of the car, which Miss Bartlett was driving, became jammed and the automobile dashed over the steep sea wall and into about fifteen feet of water. Although tucked under the steering post, with her skirts tangled with its many rods, Miss Bartlett, as the car shot off into space before its downward plunge, managed to get clear and jump out into the icy waters of the Severn. Lieutenant Sterling jumped to the other side and also got clear. It took a diver and several naval tenders with their derricks to get the car back to land.

Senator Daniel Improves.

Lynchburg, Va., April 26.—United States Senator John W. Daniel, who returned to his home here from Daytona, Fla., where he had been seriously ill, passed a fairly good night after his long trip. His family noted the improvement in the senator's condition.

Another Railroad Deal On.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 26.—It was reported that the Pennsylvania railroad and the New York Central have decided to purchase the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad and the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal railroad jointly. Officials of both companies admit hearing rumors of the proposed sale.

Plunges Into Hole to Death.

South Bethlehem, Pa., April 26.—William Shafer, of Klecknersville, while attempting to pry loose a large rock in the Chapman slate quarry lost his footing and was thrown head first down the deep hole to his death.

FROST SPREADS RUIN IN COTTON BELT

Coldest Weather For Season on Record Destroys Crops.

New Orleans, La., April 26.—Wide-spread destruction of the new cotton crop has been wrought by freezing weather in the last two nights.

The greatest trouble in the cotton situation is that there is small chance of enough seed being obtained for replanting.

As a result of the scarcity and unexpected demand cotton seed here rose to the highest price on record, long staple seed selling for $150 a ton. Ordinary seed brought $50 to $75 a ton.

The reports of freezing weather and snow in many of the southern states sent cotton up $1.75 a bale on the opening of the local future market. As the day progressed reports of great damage multiplied and the new crop months showed an advance of $2.50 over last Saturday's close.

Reports received here from many sections of Louisiana and Mississippi indicate that thousands of acres of cotton have been severely damaged by the cold. In many instances replanting will be necessary.

The weather was the coldest for this season in the memory of the oldest brokers.

Texas is said to have suffered severely. Reports of ice in many sections of Mississippi were received, and the Georgia crop, on which hung a large part of the hopes of the bears, was reported to have been severely damaged. All of the cotton which was up in many parts of the interior of the south, is reported killed and the seed, which had been put in the ground, is said to be rotting.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Man Applies Match to Gasoline on Water to See Effect.

Warsaw, Va., April 26.—Just to see if gasoline on water would burn, George Meekin, of Sharps, applied a match to it while in a gasoline launch. As a result Macklin and his companion, J. L. Brann, of Ivondale, are both dead.

The men were in a launch towing a lighter and a barge loaded with excelsior wood, and had been engaged in filling the gasoline tank from a larger tank on the lighter, when a quantity of the fluid spilled on the creek. Immediately upon the match being lighted the explosion occurred. Meekin's body was blown to pieces. Brann's body was blown high into the air and landed in a skiff.

INSURGENTS REASSURE TAFT

Hayes, Fish and Woods Tell President They Are For His Program.

Washington, April 26.—Three "insurgent" guardsmen, Representatives Hayes, of California; Fish, of New York; and Woods, of Iowa, marched on the White House. After being with the president for a quarter of an hour they emerged arm-in-arm and moved on to the capitol.

"We just wanted to tell the president," said Mr. Hayes, "that we are still with him on his legislative program. He probably knew this already, but we wanted to give him renewed assurance of the fact."

Will Try to Stop Big Prize Fight.

Cincinnati, April 26.—A national movement of ministers against the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight was inaugurated by the Methodist ministers of Cincinnati at their meeting in Wiley chapel. Churches all over the country will be asked to appeal to the governor of California to stop the fight.

Will Probe "Third Degree."

Washington, April 26.—The senate committee on judiciary voted to conduct a thorough examination into what is known as "third degree" methods of extorting confessions from persons charged with crime. The practice of employing persons in the espionage of jurors also will be probed.

Every farmstead located in a section where winters are cold and winds blow ought to have its shelter belt of coniferous trees—spruces, pines or firs. The strip devoted to such windbreak ought to be located at a sufficient distance from the house and farm buildings to give room for feed lots, garden, etc. This strip should be put in mellow condition and given frequent cultivation after the young trees are set. It is well to select for the shelter belt varieties which have done well and made thrifty growth on other farms in the vicinity, or, if there be none of these varieties which are recommended by

ROOSEVELT GUEST OF CITY OF PARIS

Welcomed by Municipal Council With Outstretched Hands.

HE RECEIVED AN OVATION

Attended Session of City Fathers and Made a Tour of the City Hall, Which Is Elaborately Furnished.

Paris, April 26.—Former President Roosevelt was the guest of the city of Paris in the magnificent Hotel De Ville, or town hall, which has played so conspicuous a part in French history.

In honor of Colonel Roosevelt's presence the Hotel De Ville was decorated with American and French flags. The ex-president, accompanied by Mr. Bacon, the American ambassador, and M. Jusserand, French ambassador at Washington, was received at the entrance with great formality by M. Caron, president of the municipal council; M. Deselves, prefect of the Seine; M. Lamourin, president of the general council of the Seine, and M. Lepine, prefect of police.

By them he was conducted to the Salles des Deliberations, where he attended a sitting of the city fathers, after which he signed his name in the "Livre D'Or" and made a tour of the building, which is elaborately furnished and contains some fine examples of modern French art.

At the session of the council Colonel Roosevelt met personally many persons prominent in the official life of Paris. Several speeches, complimentary to the guest of honor, were made, and Colonel Roosevelt responded.

A Flattering Reception.

Colonel Roosevelt's reception at the Hotel De Ville was most flattering. The vestibules and imposing grand staircase had been beautifully decorated with potted plants and flowers and the guest was escorted to the council chamber through lines of brilliantly uniformed Republican guards.

As he entered the chamber he received a great ovation, both from the floor and from the galleries, which were crowded with women.

In extending the formal welcome to the city M. Caron said that Colonel Roosevelt looked up to Paris as "What we call a man because, being courageous, you have mastered yourself by reflection, because though passionately loving a struggle, you love more passionately conciliation and peace; because you are a patriot to whom your country owes great achievements; and because you represent the conviction that the law of work is the fundamental law of being, a thought you have so brilliantly developed in asserting that the man willfully idle and the woman willfully sterile have no right place in a healthy, robust and vigorous community."

M. Lepine spoke with much feeling, declaring that the demonstrations made by the French people in honor of Colonel Roosevelt showed that he had touched their hearts.

Roosevelt Is Grateful.

Colonel Roosevelt replied in French, voicing the deepest gratitude for the expressions addressed to him, but protesting that they were too flattering. "You make of me," said he, "an ideal which I can only try to realize in the future."

The former president paid a high tribute to Paris and its past, saying that he agreed with M. Lepine that it was a mistake to regard Paris, as did tourists, as a place of amusement. "Paris," he added, "is a city of work, of science and of art, whose industries are incomparable. It is the capital of a country radiant with the virtues of peace and war."

Colonel Roosevelt referred to the great discoveries which France had given to the world, mentioning especially Pasteur and the Academy of Fine Arts, where students from every country come "to commune with the muses in the sacred wood."

An immense crowd in the streets acclaimed the former president as he entered and left the building. From the Hotel De Ville Colonel Roosevelt went to the Carnavalet museum, which contains the most interesting documents of the city and the Revolution.

Later Colonel Roosevelt took tea with Edith Wharton, the novelist. In the evening he was the dinner guest of General Brugere, chief of the general staff of the French army, following which he attended the opera.

Colonel Roosevelt has received an invitation from Count Zeppelin to make a trip with him in his dirigible balloon, but will decline because of lack of time.

State Police and Miners Clash.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 26.—State troopers and the striking miners at the Bradenville mines of the Latrobe and Connellsville Coal and Coke company clashed. Several miners and a trooper were injured. The company decided to close the mines after the fight.

Roosevelt Will Get Ticket For Fight.

Denver, Colo., April 26.—The first ticket for the fight between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson, at San Francisco, on July 4, will be presented to Theodore Roosevelt on his arrival in New York. This statement was made by Jack Gleason. The ticket will be made of solid gold.

the nearest reliable nurseryman. Only those trees should be bought which are guaranteed to have good roots and to grow when properly cared for. Trees that have been transplanted several times in the nursery are far preferable to those which have not been. The important thing to keep in mind in buying the trees is not how cheaply they can be bought, but how thrifty and symmetrical a shelter belt they will make. Shoddy, poor rooted trees that can be got for a song are the most expensive kind of trees that a fellow can buy in the long run.

PORCH SHADES

MAKE YOUR PORCH
Cool, Airy, Shady, Private

WHY Vudor Porch Shades Are Needed

You need Vudor Porch Shades to get the most out of your porch.
To make it a spot where you can rest or work on the hottest days, outdoors, yet free from the sun's glare and heat.
Vudor Porch Shades are very durable, and will last many seasons.
Another good feature about them is the peculiar fact that those sitting on the porch can see out, but passersby cannot see in. In other words, you have complete privacy, and can use the porch or veranda the same as an inside room, with infinitely more comfort on hot days.

Vudor PORCH SHADES

Vudor Porch Shades are just the thing for "boxing in" porches or balconies that are to be used as outdoor sleeping or living apartments.

Vudor Porch Shades are made of thin, flat strips of wood of the kind that best endures outdoor exposure. These strips are closely bound together with Seine Twine, in a lockstitch weave.

They are artistically stained in soft, pleasing colors. These colors are weather proof, and will not fade or crack off.

The shades can be instantly raised, or lowered (operating on the principle of a theatre curtain) and are easily and readily put up.

Why They Are Better Than Awnings, Bamboo Screens or Canvas Drops.

Vudor Porch Shades should not be confused with ordinary porch screens—canvass curtains or bamboo shades, for instance.

Awnings and canvas curtains shut out the sun, it is true, but as they likewise completely prevent the circulation of air, the porch becomes an oven. It is like sitting in a tent with the sun beating down upon it. They also spoil the neat appearance of a porch.

Cost and Sizes

Any ordinary porch can be shaded with Vudor Shades at a cost of from $3.00 to $10.00

The regulation stock sizes are:

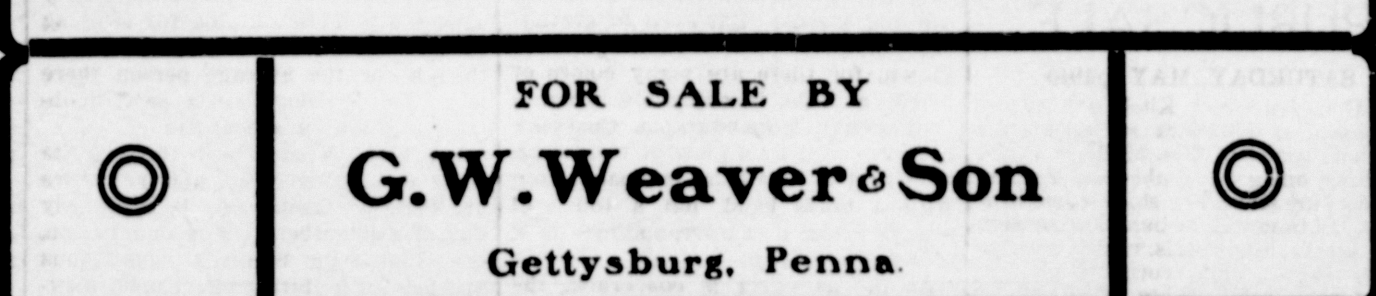

4 ft. wide x 7 ft. 8 in. drop.	10 ft. wide x 7 ft. 8 in. drop.
6 ft. wide x 7 ft. 8 in. drop.	10 ft. wide x 10 ft. drop.
8 ft. wide x 7 ft. 8 in. drop.

We will gladly furnish special sizes to order in single shades up to ten feet in width at small extra cost. Wider spaces can be equipped with two or more stock or special shades.

The untiled orchard or berry patch means not only a checking of the growth and a reducing of the productive capacity of tree and bush, but it also means an uninvited harbor and place of retreat for their many insect enemies.

The service which birds render to man as insect destroyers can hardly be measured. For this practical service alone, if there were not other grounds, some pains may well be taken to see that nesting places are provided or left for them about the premises.

GOOD NEWS

Many Gettysburg Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast", and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Gettysburg are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Mrs. H. H. Ridinger, 25 Breckenridge St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I can endorse Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I did two years ago when I publicly told of their merits. A member of my family was afflicted with backache and at night often had to get up and sit in a chair. The kidneys were weak and there were severe pains throughout the body. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured at the People's Drug Store and they brought relief from the first. As their use was continued, a great improvement was noticeable. I was led to try Doan's Kidney Pills by this person's experience and I am glad to say that I received relief from disagreeable symptoms of kidney trouble that had clung to me for some time. I cannot give Doan's Kidney Pills more praise than they deserve."

A New Kind of Corn From China.

A small lot of shelled corn of a kind that is new to this country was sent to the United States department of agriculture from Shanghai, China, in 1908 and tested the same season. It proved to have qualities that may make it valuable in breeding a corn adapted to the hot and dry conditions of the southwest. The plants raised in the test averaged less than six feet in height, with an average of twelve green leaves at time of tasseling. The ears averaged five and one-half inches in length and four and one-third inches in greatest circumference, with sixteen to eighteen rows of small grains. On the upper part of the plant the leaves are all on one side of the stalk, instead of being arranged in two rows on opposite sides. Besides this, the upper leaves stand erect instead of drooping, and the tips of the leaves are therefore above the top of the tassels. The silks of the ear are produced at the point where the leaf blade is joined to the leaf sheath.

This corn is very different from any now produced in America. Its peculiar value is that the erect arrangement of the leaves on one side of the stalk and the appearance of the silks in the angle where the leaf blade joins the sheaf offer a protected place in which pollen can settle and fertilize the silks before the latter are ever exposed to the air. While this corn may be of little value itself, it is likely that by crossbreeding these desirable qualities can be imparted to a larger corn. The discovery of this peculiar corn in China suggests anew the idea that although America is the original home of corn, yet it may by some means have been taken to the eastern hemisphere long before the discovery of America by Columbus. XV.—Use of Color In House Decoration.

HAVE you ever considered how much environment has to do with the good or bad health of the individual or family? If you have thought about it at all you know that cheerful, pleasant and suitable surroundings in the home tend their aid in maintaining good health. These also assist in character building. The influence of such things may be unconscious to persons who have given little or no thought to the subject, but without doubt the influence exists to some degree.

The choice of color, the style and arrangement of furniture, and the pictures which adorn the walls, all have their part in developing the men and women who inhabit the home. Comparatively few persons have given much thought to the study of color, and as a result its selection for house or furnishings has been more the result of chance or mischance than of good judgment. Color gives atmosphere to our homes, and rightly chosen it brings a sense of comfort and satisfaction with one's abode. If these are lacking the house has failed to be a home in the fullest sense of the word.

For one who has never studied color the best advice is to choose quiet tones and copy nature as far as possible. If one has a favorite color it should surround one in either house furnishing or personal adornment whenever suitable. Why not choose colors according to personal tastes?

We select our friends from sympathy in thought and feeling. We do not always philosophize about it or stop to analyze why we find greater pleasure in the society of some people than in others. But we recognize certain principles in our liking and know that we are happier and enjoy our friends better when we find those principles and charms have a place in their temperaments. Just so it is with color. We cannot always give a reason for our preferences, but we are sure they exist, and most people are sensitive to color to a greater or less degree. One's favorite color brings repose and enjoyment, is conducive to health and exercises an actual influence on our life and moods. But even in gratifying this preference wisdom must be shown, for there are many colors of which a little is enjoyable when a mass would be unendurable. Constantly surrounded by a glow of vivid scarlet would be like close companionship with a brass band, and a touch of scarlet amid dull surroundings is a pleasing sensation.

As far as effect is concerned, the color of a room makes its atmosphere. It may be cheerful or sad, cozy or disturbing, according to its quality and force. Without color a room is much like a bare canvas, which might, but does not, give a vivid picture of some phase of life. The colorless room has nothing to tell of the character of its occupants.

Color in a house includes much that is classed as furniture. It applies to carpets, draperies and ornaments, but it is first and pre-eminently applied to wall treatment. In selecting color for a single room or for an entire house certain points must be borne in mind. The first is that one person does not make a home. It takes the combined influence and personality of every person living under the roof to give its true character. Every book, every picture, every carefully selected piece of furniture, brought into the house makes it a part of a beautiful whole, and no house can be absolutely perfect without all these evidences of family life.

Good rules to follow in selecting colors for any room are to make the choice on this basis:

With reference to the light in the room.

With reference to other colors in adjoining rooms.

With reference to the general character of the furnishing.

Interiors with a southern exposure should be treated with cool, light colors, such as blues and greens in various tones, water green, emerald green and blue green; also the sil-lence in Chinese literature corn is known to have been established in China within less than a century after the voyage of Columbus.

When to Cool Cream.

To cool the cream quickly and thoroughly just as soon as the separating is finished is of more importance than anything else at that particular time. The pigs and calves can wait for their skim milk, but bacteria in the cream wait for nothing until the temperature favorable to their growth is reduced.

very tones of gray. Rooms in which little sunlight is admitted must be brightened and be given the effect of sunlight. This may be imparted by using warm colors in its decorations. These are yellow, red brown, reds, yellow with a hint of red, olive and gold green.

It is well to bear in mind that almost every color has a cold and a warm tone. The first is produced by combining blue or green with the original color, while the warm tone is made by combining red or yellow with it. Thus brown with a hint of blue is cold, while brown with a hint of red is warm, and the effect of the two is entirely different.

The number, size and placing of the windows also greatly affect the intensity of the color. It must always be remembered that any interior is dark compared with out of doors, and in the lightest room there will be dark corners or spaces where the color will seem much darker than it really is. This explains why wall paper which appeared perfectly satisfactory in the dealer's store is often a disappointment on the wall of the room for which it was bought. The sample in the store was displayed in a different light from that in the room. Three principles will always govern the proper use of color in house decoration—first, that of color in relation to light; second, color in gradation, and, third, color in masses. These principles are not difficult to master, but they are as important and as impossible to escape as climate. The shades of color used on walls or ceiling govern everything else. The color of the walls prescribes the color that must be used in floor coverings, curtains and draperies.

After the relation of color to light has been established and personal preferences have been taken into account the next principle is that of gradation. The strongest and purest tones of the color are naturally and almost by instinct put at the base—that is, the floor covering should carry the darkest color or its strongest tone.

It is not often advisable to use what is known as a one color decoration—that is, confining the entire decoration to a single color. Such a plan is much like trying to make a melody on one note of the scale. The best effects in both sounds and color are produced by the skillful variation of tones. The gradation and combination of even opposing tints give the greatest satisfaction to the eye. But, whatever the color or colors used, they must be darkest on the floor. The walls will give the second grade in color and the ceiling the last. These gradations, too, should be distinct and separate enough in tone to be perfectly apparent. The connecting grades may appear in furniture covering and draperies. Then the third principle, using color in masses, means that whatever color is used should be given space enough to establish itself freely. In other words, it should not be broken into patches and neutralized by divisions. Nature does not put a single red leaf on a tree and then change the color to yellow or green. Rather the whole forest will have its various colors so arranged that one is perfectly conscious of every one of them. The brilliant red is in quantity sufficient to make itself felt, yet it does not interfere with the glow of the yellow or the restfulness of the green. The general tone of the room may be what you will—green or blue or a division of each—but to be perfect every detail in the room must be related to one or both of these colors. If this rule is disregarded every piece of furniture unrelated to the whole becomes a spot which has no real connection with and puts the entire room out of harmony.

Where to Use Different Colors.

Some colors are much better suited to one room than another. If one's favorite color is pink it should not be used in the dining room or hall. Light blues, pinks, lavender and other dainty shades are more suitable for sleeping rooms occupied by young people, though for the average person there is no better color than a soft, unobtrusive green for a bedroom. Red has for years been the favorite color for dining room, and yet there are certain reasons why it is entirely out of place there. For one reason, the color soon becomes monotonous and has an irritating effect upon nervous or highly strung persons. Although a warm color, it is inclined to absorb light. It is very rich and warm in sunlight or artificial light, but in ordinary daylight it makes a room seem dark and gloomy. If red is to be used at all in wall covering it should be confined to a hall or den, some room which is not in constant use. When yellow happens to be a favorite color it is a good one to use in the dining room, particularly when, as is often the case, that room has a northern exposure. Golden browns and tans are satisfactory in living rooms when conditions are right for them—that is, when there is not too much sunlight in the room.

Living rooms should be decorated not only with restful colors, but those which suggest cheerfulness as well. Sleeping rooms should be soothing, and the colors which produce this effect are supposed to be quiet greens, soft grays and dull blues.

The paneled wall and beamed ceiling of dark wood with color showing between make a splendid finish for living and dining rooms and hall, especially in a country house. One particularly attractive country home had the dining room ceiled with birch logs on which the white bark had been retained to gleam in the firelight. A tinting of soft green on rough plaster gave the room a delightful woodsy effect quite in keeping with the rural surroundings. How much more appropriate a decoration like that in a country house than some artificial arrangement copied from a city house!

Don't hunt after trouble, but look for success.
You'll find what you look for; don't look for distress.
If you see but your shadow, remember, I am grey.
That the sun is still shining, but you're in the way.
Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shrink.
Don't think of your worries, but think of your work.
The worries will vanish; the work will be done.
No man sees his shadow who faces the sun.

The Chauffeur

"Come, Molly; the auto's waiting."

"All right, Imogen; I'll be with you as soon as I can tie on my veil. Have you your goggles?"

"Goggles? No! Do you suppose I would make myself hideous by wearing such things?"

Imogen went out to the piazza, where at the foot of the steps the automobile was waiting, and said to the chauffeur:

"You needn't go today, William. I'm going to drive myself."

"Yes, ma'am."

"Is everything all right?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Come, Molly; let's be off."

Molly came hurrying out, trying to adjust a veil and pull on a pair of gloves at the same time, a somewhat difficult feat to perform. The two got into the auto, and the machine chugged down the driveway to the gate. It was a mild spring morning, and the roads were fine. Imogen was quite an expert driver, and there was nothing to mar the pleasure of the trip till they had been out a couple of hours and were some thirty miles from home. Then one of the tires subsided and let the wheel to which it belonged down on to the ground.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Molly.

"What shall we do?"

"There's a shed or stable or something over there; let's go over and see if we can get any help."

Having placed the auto on the side of the road, they both walked the hundred yards that separated them from the house and found a man in overalls tinkering with an automobile.

"Oh, how fortunate!" exclaimed Molly. "It's a garage."

"We've got a puncture or something," said Imogen to the man. "We've left our auto out there in the road. Would you mind coming out to see what's the matter?"

The man left his work, went with them to their auto, inspected the wheel and said:

"It's not a case of puncture. There's a 'rip' in the tire."

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Imogen. "Can it be fixed?"

"Not here. I haven't the tools."

"What shall we do?"

"I'll put enough wind in it to get your machine into my garage, and there it must be left till you can get another tire. I see you have no 'extra'."

The man managed after much difficulty to get the auto into the garage; then he said to them:

"I will take you to your home, and you can send some one out with an extra tire to take your auto back."

"Do you think that's the only thing to do?"

"Yes. Please wait till I go to the house and get off these overalls. I'll be back in a moment."

He went up a byroad and disappeared. The two girls occupied themselves looking at an imposing mansion on the top of a hill, at the foot of which they waited.

"That's a fine house," said Imogen. "I wouldn't mind being at the head of that house—that is, if I had a husband to be!"

"At the foot," supplied Molly.

In a few moments the man returned in chauffeur costume.

"I should think you'd be hungry," he said. "It's past lunchtime, and you'll not get home before 3 o'clock. Perhaps you'd better go up to that summer hotel, pointing to the house they had been admiring, "and get something to eat. It's not yet opened for the season, but I think you'll find something to stay your appetite."

"What a beautiful site for a hotel!" exclaimed Imogen. "We thought it a private house."

They climbed the hill, were admitted by a maid in white and black uniform and shown into a dining room having none of the appearance of one belonging to a hotel. There a delicious luncheon was served. On attempting to pay for it the maid said that there was no one in the house to receive cash and they would have to pay another time.

"We'll leave it with the man at the garage down there," said Imogen.

"Yes, m'm," the girl assented.

Returning to the garage, they found the man waiting for them with an auto ready. They entered it and started for home. On the way home the chauffeur became more communicative, and Imogen remarked sotto voce to Molly that he used very good language for an auto tinker. When they reached the house Imogen took out her pocketbook, asking him how much his charge would be, including the luncheon.

The chauffeur replied that there was no charge for the ride; on the contrary, he had been much honored. As for the luncheon, he owned the house in which they had lunched, and in this, too, they had honored him.

The girls looked at each other in consternation.

"But you said," Imogen protested, "that the house was a summer hotel."

"I lied there," said the man imperiously.

The three sat regarding one another for a few moments, then burst out laughing.

"Pardon me," said the chauffeur, "I couldn't help it. You walked right into your own trap."

That was some years ago. Today Imogen is at the head of the house on the hill, and the gentleman chauffeur is at the foot of it.

Many a boy or man has been able to live a clean and decent life because of a feeling of self respect—a regard for the worth and sacredness of his own personality—or from consideration of a family record before him in which he has felt just pride. Fortunate indeed are those who have an anchor of this type when times of stress and temptation come on.

DAHLIA JACK ROSE.

This Flower One of the Most Profitable That Can Be Grown.

Farmers who grow flowers for profit as a side line—and this appeals particularly to some of the farmers' wives who live near good sized towns—are assured by L. K. Peacock of Berlin, N. J., who produces many kinds of flowers, that the dahlia jack rose is one of the most profitable blossoms. Mr. Peacock cut blooms last season that brought $6 per hundred, while a Massachusetts man sold his output at $1.50 a dozen. As to this rose Mr. Peacock writes:

"Now, after another year's growing, during which we had several acres, we can only add to the praise extended by us last year. It was the healthiest plant we had on the place, the first to get into bloom, and every flower was perfect the entire season, which in our location was a most trying one owing to the extended droughts. True, the stems were not as long as they should have been, but they were as long as those of Sylvia, recognized by all as a first class flower with good stems, and later in the season many jack rose stems averaged longer than any of the recognized standard varieties. Almost every special order for cut flowers included the jack rose.

"Another thing not to be forgotten is the forcing quality of the jack rose, which is even today being placed on the market and sold at prices far above chrysanthemums, as it has that brilliant, rich crimson that appeals to all and cannot be found in the chrysanthemum—a decidedly richer shade than found even in the Jacqueminot rose."

Hay Consumed by Animals.

The hay consumed by different animals does not vary greatly from three pounds daily for each hundred pound weight of the animal. The following table is the result of various experiments by different persons and will be useful to farmers who wish to determine by calculation beforehand how their hay will hold out for the winter:

Working horses, 3.08 pounds; milk cows, 2.40 pounds; young growing cattle, 3.08 pounds; steers, 2.24 pounds; dry cows, 2.42 pounds; sheep, 3 pounds. All the articles enumerated in this food table are estimated as of good quality. If the fodder be of poor quality more must be allowed.
